PRESS NOTE

POULTRY VACCINATION EVERY MONDAY AT VETERINARY HOSPITAL JUNGLIGHT

Sustainability of backyard poultry depends on health and productivity of the birds. To ensure flock health periodic vaccination of birds against prevalent diseases is advised. Vaccination protects the birds from deadly disease outbreaks and prevents loss of the farmer.

Providing prophylactic coverage, the Department of AH&VS has arranged to carry out vaccination in the backyard poultry birds on every Monday at 9.00 AM at veterinary hospital Goalghar.

Backyard poultry farmers are requested to bring their birds and get them vaccinated.
