SHEW Organizes “Shakti Swarupa – Celebrating Women’s Strength and Wellbeing”

The State Hub for Empowerment of Women (SHEW), Directorate of Social Welfare, Andaman and Nicobar Administration, organized a cultural program titled “Shakti Swarupa – Celebrating Women’s Strength and Wellbeing” at Tagore College Auditorium on 14th October 2026. The program aimed to promote the physical, mental, emotional and social wellbeing of women staff members through cultural performances, music, poetry and interactive group activities.

Addressing the gathering, Shri Mohit Mishra, Director, Social Welfare, acknowledged the dedication, commitment and efforts of women workforce in carrying out departmental responsibilities and supporting welfare initiatives. He stressed that it is important to take initiatives for promoting the wellbeing and fostering a supportive work environment for working women.

The program featured folk dance performances, musical presentations and creative expressions celebrating women's strength, confidence, resilience and achievements. The interactive session “Saheli Samvad – Connecting Through Conversations” encouraged participants to share experiences, appreciate one another's strengths and build mutual trust.

Fun-filled group activities, collective singing and cultural performances provided staff members an opportunity to unwind, relieve workplace stress and interact beyond their routine professional responsibilities. The activities fostered open communication, mutual appreciation, teamwork and better coordination among colleagues, contributing to a more positive and harmonious workplace.

Through Shakti Swarupa, the State Hub for Empowerment of Women highlighted that women's wellbeing is integral to a healthy and productive work environment. The program provided a meaningful platform for women staff members to reconnect, strengthen interpersonal relationships and celebrate their collective strength.

The Directorate of social welfare continues to work towards women's holistic empowerment through awareness generation, capacity building, skill development, livelihood promotion and convergence with relevant departments. Through its various initiatives, we support women's social and economic empowerment across the Andaman and Nicobar Islands.
